More Than 400 Dead

Cooling Breezes Relieve 10-Day Sweltering Heat Wave in Europe

LONDON (UP)—Cooling breezes from the north Atlantic today brought a measure of relief to Europe, which has sweltered in the grip of a 10-day heat wave that claimed more than 400 lives.

Only in Italy, where police estimated at least 200 persons had died, were temperatures in the 90's forecast. Elsewhere weathermen reported temperatures dropping rapidly as the cool air front moved inland.

Italy was hardest hit by the scorching sun which sent the mercury soaring to record highs.

The heat turned three homes for the aged in Milan into death pits for 65 men and women Tuesday. Shocked civic authorities ordered air conditioning equipment installed in the homes as soon as possible.

Coming after the deaths of 16 other aged in homes in Venice and Bologna, the Milan tragedy sparked demands for reappraisal of the buildings housing old folks.

Vienna police reported 46 persons died from sunstroke, drownings or in accidents attributed to the heat during the past week.

In Vienna, recorded a record 104 degrees Monday, temperatures dropped sharply during the night to 75.

Temperatures in Switzerland also dropped, particularly in the Alpine regions. Police reported more than 35 persons drowned over the weekend while seeking relief.

West Germany counted at least 25 dead as a result of the heat. Belgium reported at least 30 deaths. Other West European countries also reported deaths as a result of the heat.

Principal speaker will be Senator Glen Jones.

Lack of Cash Delays Honeymoon for Bride, 63, Mate, 19

NASHVILLE (UP)—Plans for a honeymoon have been delayed by a 19-year-old Nashville bride and his 63-year-old groom because the newlyweds have only seven cents for setting up house-keeping.

Thomas Henderson, an unemployed bean sheller, said he would take his wife Florence to his former home at Dickson, Tenn., to visit "kinfolks" as soon as he musters enough cash for the trip.

The couple were married here Monday after exhausting their combined assets of $5.50 earned from shelling beans. The money went for a marriage license.

Henderson said he met his wife a couple of weeks ago and "it was love at first sight." The young bean sheller said he was not worried about supporting his new wife, would probably "keep on shelling beans for a while."

Israeli-Syrian Artillery Duel Brings Crisis

UN Officials Are Investigating Cause of Clash

JERUSALEM (UP)—Cairo Radio reported today the supreme Arab command had gone to the Israeli-Syrian border where Israeli officials said a 10-hour artillery duel had created a "grave situation."

Cairo Radio, broadcasting in Hebrew, announced that Egypt had "taken all steps needed to go to Syria's aid should such aid be required." Syria and Egypt are linked by military pact and have a joint military command.

The broadcast said the high command had taken over "personal supervision" of the border area. Sniping was reported along the border today but officials said the situation generally was quiet and that U. N. officials were investigating Tuesday's clash.

One of seven persons wounded in Tuesday's battling was reported today to be in "very critical condition."

Reports circulated in Jerusalem that the Soviet Union was urging Syria to further attacks on Israeli villages, but there was no official confirmation here.

But the officials said it was unlikely Tuesday's 10-hour artillery duel would precipitate an all out war.

Syrian and Israeli troops bombarded each other for 10 hours Tuesday across their mountainous farmland frontier. The fighting did not end until United Nations cease fire observers ordered a sixth cease fire. Each side blamed the other.

Mr. and Mrs. Goben left today to attend the funeral.

Dinner to Honor Hollingsworth

JOLIET, Ill. (UP)—Gov. William G. Stratton and other state Republican leaders will toast Morton H. Hollingsworth, Stratton's finance director, at a testimonial dinner today.

Hollingsworth's rise in Republican circles began in 1952 when he was elected state central committeeman for the 15th congressional district. He was later named state party chairman and recently was appointed the GOP national committeeman from Illinois.

May Get Top Position

Zhukov Is Emerging as Key Factor In Shift in Soviet Leadership

LONDON (UP)—Red army Marshal Georgi Zhukov is rapidly emerging as the key factor behind the power shift in Soviet leadership, top diplomatic sources said today. He is expected to assume a top position soon—possibly the premiership.

The jut-jawed defense minister, conqueror of Berlin and wartime friend of President Eisenhower, played an important role in saving party boss Nikita Khrushchev in last week's Kremlin revolt and Khrushchev depends on his loyalty for survival, the sources said.

Zhukov was not considered a man seeking a military dictatorship, and not a "Napoleonic type." But he is being pushed upward by the constant increase in strength of the Red army over which he has unchallenged control, diplomats said.

It was not known definitely he would replace Premier Marshal Nikolai Bulganin. But Bulganin was believed under a cloud and on his way out because he sympathized with Vyacheslav M. Molotov last week when Zhukov saved Khrushchev from the would-be Molotov coup.

Diplomatic observers said to make the Khrushchev-Bulganin split less obvious Bulganin might be kicked upstairs—that he might take the place of President Klement Voroshilov who would be dropped. Voroshilov also backed Molotov.

It was noted that Khrushchev took protocol precedence over Bulganin today in Prague and was greeted—as he evidently expected to be greeted—as "leader" of the Soviet delegation. Bulganin played this role in their previous junkets abroad.

The diplomatic sources said that Zhukov could topple Khrushchev even now by withdrawing his support since the Red army has great power and apparently is the only major stable power factor in Russia.

It was noted that Khrushchev took protocol precedence over Bulganin today in Prague and was greeted—as he evidently expected to be greeted—as "leader" of the Soviet delegation. Bulganin played this role in their previous junkets abroad.

PRAGUE (UP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin gave Nikita Khrushchev full credit today for "uncovering and destroying" the Molotov-Malenkov opposition.

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UP)—Soviet Communist Party leader Nikita Khrushchev began a nine-day visit to Prague today by accusing the West of trying to start a "counter revolution" in Czechoslovakia and other Eastern European Communist countries.

"But this, comrades, will never happen," Khrushchev told a cheering crowd estimated by Czech officials at some 200,000 persons.

The Soviet party chief looked fresh and buoyant as he swung down from a special train wearing a jaunty new Panama hat.

In contrast Premier Nikolai Bulganin appeared tired and drawn after their 24-hour "whistle stop" trip across Czechoslovakia from the Soviet border. Bulganin's eyes were bloodshot as with great fatigue.

Khrushchev told an elite and respectfully attentive audience that the West planned to "regenerate" Germany "in the role of a shock force in the preparation of a new war." The audience included Czech President Antonin Zapotocky.

The globetrotting Soviet glad handlers arrived by train at Prague's Central Station and were greeted by a crowd of 200,000 which packed the square in front of the station.

Russell Fails to Win Agreement On Compromise

Southern Leader Discusses Bill At White House

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower assured the South today that the administration has no intention of launching a "punitive expedition" under its proposed civil rights law.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the southern fight against the controversial rights bill, took the opposition's case to the White House today.

He apparently failed to win Eisenhower's agreement to any major compromise. But he said the President's mind is "not closed" to a "clarifying" amendment.

"I found no intention of purpose on his part to go on any punitive expedition against the South," the Georgia senator said after the 50-minute meeting.

Russell declined to go into details of what kind of amendment the President would consider. Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said after a White House session Tuesday that his party would oppose confining the bill to a simple protection of voting rights.

The meeting came as Senate Republicans tightened party discipline and sought to maintain a solid front in the face of Democratic disunity over the bill.

The GOP leaders, it was reported, think the Republican Party now has established its claim to sponsorship of the civil rights bill and will reap credit for its passage if it breaks through an expected filibuster and reaches the White House.

After Negro Vote
This in turn, they believe, will mean further gains for the GOP among Negro voters who began deserting the Democratic standard for the GOP ticket in 1956. In order to maintain this position they feel they must maintain outward unity behind the measure.

The Senate today was debating a motion by Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) to consider the House-approved version of the administration's civil rights bill.

The bill provides for a bipartisan commission to investigate alleged violations of voting rights and study "legal developments which constitute a denial" of civil rights, a new civil rights division in the Justice Department, authority for the government to seek injunctions or other civil court action against conspiracies to deprive persons of their civil rights, and the same authority to halt violations or threatened violations of Negro voting rights by private individuals as well as public officials.

Senate leaders hoped for a vote on Knowland's motion this week-end or early next week. The expected favorable vote would clear the way for a long drawn-out debate—or filibuster—on the bill itself.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon gave the bill's supporters a minor victory. He ruled that a technical error in the House bill—since corrected—didn't matter. He said the correction was retroactive.

Science to The Rescue

BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

One of the remarkable aspects of the new industrial revolution is that science not only is constantly blazing fresh trails but is going back over old ones to make exciting and helpful discoveries.

The rubber industry is a striking instance. With the World War II arrival of synthetic rubber on a major scale, it was widely assumed that to the extent its price could be made competitive with natural rubber, the man-made product would soon be grabbing off the big markets.

As it turns out today, however, the demand for natural rubber is greater than ever, and scientific experts are helping producers meet the need.

Synthetic rubber is indeed now preferred for items comprising about a third of the rubber market, including passenger automobile tires.

But the natural material is favored for another third, including medical supplies and airplane, truck and bus tires, and in the remaining third of the market synthetic and natural rubber are competitive, with the edge depending on price at any given time. Right now synthetic has a 2-1 edge.

Consequently, producers of natural rubber are toiling hard to expand the productivity of their rubber tree acreage. Here's where science comes in.

The experts have found that by developing careful replanting cycles, eliminating the older trees, and improving their methods of tapping the latex or raw rubber, they can boost the yield per acre to around 2,000 pounds a year. Averages below 450 pounds annually are still common in many producing areas.

Thus the big companies now are embarked on extensive replanting efforts in quest of these larger yields per acre. Some even talk of yields as high as 2,400 pounds a year per acre.

Thus the big companies now are embarked on extensive replanting efforts in quest of these larger yields per acre. Some even talk of yields as high as 2,400 pounds a year per acre.

Interesting and thus far successful experiments are going forward with chemical "tree hormones" to stimulate latex output further. It isn't yet known what these hormone injections will do eventually either to the rubber trees or the tropical soils in which they grow.

But what has been achieved in recent times with natural rubber output is one more proof that no industrial process or material can be quite written off so long as fresh scientific imagination can still be applied to its development.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: U. S. Steel Wants $91,000,000 Gift From Uncle Sam; Kremlin Crisis Caught State Department Off Base; Air Force Drill Team May Perform At Radio City.

WASHINGTON — While U. S. Steel was touching off a chain reaction of inflation which will hit everything from bobby pins to automobiles, it was simultaneously pulling wires for a 40-foot channel in the upper Delaware river so bigger ore ships can reach its giant Fairless Works at Morrisville, Pa.

Deepening the channel will cost the taxpayers an estimated $91,738,000—a free gift to U. S. Steel because it is the only company planning to use super ore carriers on the upper Delaware.

This costly project, benefiting one private company, was quietly pushed through the House Appropriations committee by Chairman Clarence Cannon (D. Mo.). It is now being considered by a Senate Appropriations subcommittee headed by Senator Allen Ellender (D., La.).

Property owners along the Delaware claim a deeper channel will increase the flood menace. They point out that the last damaging flood in August, 1955, was caused by hurricane-driven water forced up the Delaware.

The White House is incensed over the way U. S. Steel thumbed its nose at President Eisenhower by hiking the price of steel one day after his appeal against inflation. It remains to be seen, however, whether the White House will oppose spending $91,738,000 to dredge a private, dead-end passageway up the Delaware river for the same U. S. Steel. Observers note that in the past Ike has frequently rewarded his opponents in the field of big business; even appointed Ben Fairless, a backstate power in U. S. Steel, to a high advisory post in his administration.

Last week's crucial Kremlin crisis caught the State Department completely unprepared. Its star ambassador, Chip Bohlen, had been transferred to the Philippines through pure whim, and the new ambassador, Llewellyn Thompson, was still "winding up affairs" in Austria. Ike was golfing at Gettysburg. The secretary of state was vacationing at Duck Island.

The new American counselor, Richard Davis, had arrived in Moscow only a few weeks before He's a good man, but was in no position to begin reporting on the most difficult and secret government operations in the world. Because of his low rank, Khrushchev and Bulganin did not come to the 4th of July reception at the American embassy, as would have been the case if an American ambassador were in charge. It is at these receptions that some of the best leaks occur in Moscow.

The State Department was also caught off base in Hungary last fall. The rioting broke out with the American minister absent.

Note—Ambassador Bohlen was transferred from Russia to the Philippines not because he wanted it but on the order of John Foster Dulles. Bohlen is one of the few career diplomats who speaks Russian fluently.

PERFORMING AIR FORCE The Radio City Music Hall is dicker with the Air Force for a 24-man drill team to replace the famed Rockettes in New York this summer.

A six-week engagement is being discussed, with an Air Force drum and bugle corps possibly going along to provide musical accompaniment.

Air Force officers are intrigued by the proposal because it would give them a good chance for recruiting publicity. They say Music Hall spokesmen have promised to allow posters and displays in the theater's lobby, built around the theme of "1947—Golden Anniversary of the Air Force."

However, the drill team, which is part of the 110th Security Squadron at Bolling Field in Washington, is doing a slow burn. Officially, its mission is to supply bodyguards for the high brass and command headquarters of the Air Force if World War III should break out. Meanwhile, the drill team earns its pay by providing ceremonial units for military funerals, parades, and receptions in the Capital.

A few months ago, a drill team was supplied for the Ed Sullivan television program. Though this too was a commercial venture, its members enjoyed the jaunt and didn't squawk. But six weeks of continuous performances under hot floodlights is another matter, especially when you're ordered to live on Air Force pay plus $12 a day for hotel and meals in an expensive city like New York.

Negotiations are under way to determine how much of the $12-a-day cost per man would be paid by Radio City Music Hall. Even if it paid all, the Music Hall would still get its "act" at a bargain rate.

Mulch Cuts Cultivation, Keeps Soil Cool

By Gardner Zade
NEA Service Staff Writer

The summer is now settled and garden work, except for succession planting, is reduced to maintenance operations.

There are a few important things to remember.

To make the job easier, mulch your vegetable garden. Mulch reduces labor of cultivating because it keeps down weeds.

It helps retain a uniform moisture condition throughout the soil. It keeps the soil cool and roots of many plants function better when not in baked soil. Mulch also prevents splashing of soil on the plant. Thus avoiding, in some cases, transfer of disease.

Practically any form of organic material can be used for a mulch if it is deep enough to exclude light from the soil and open enough to admit air.

Since most mulch materials are in the process of decaying they will absorb nitrogen from the soil. So a wise gardener will spread a 10-6-4 fertilizer, or similar formula over the soil before the mulch goes down.

Over-watering can be injurious. Plants grow yellow and die in water-logged soil.

Under-watering, typified by frequent light sprinklings, also can be harmful to gardens.

Watering should not be started until the soil is dry—not powdery dry, but dry to the touch.

When it is needed, soak the earth until it is moist to a depth of six inches to a foot. A trowel will show the penetration.

Such watering will take care of garden for a week or 10 days.

Light waterings are more beneficial to weeds than to plants.

Operating a vegetable garden properly calls for every foot of space growing some kind of a crop from early spring to late fall.

As soon as early crops are harvested, the gardener should apply two pounds of complete garden fertilizer per 100 square feet of area.

Loosen soil to make good seed bed, then replant.

For late crops consider beans, broccoli, cabbage, Chinese cabbage, carrots, kale, spinach, beets, lettuce or rutabagas, depending on your area. Consult your local garden supply dealer.

If a second crop is not planted, the area should be seeded to a soil-improving crop. Rye grass is a good one.

Because the soil is dry, plantings of most vegetable seeds should be deeper than spring plantings. As an aid to germination, soak the bottom of the furrow before planting. Then mulch or shade the newly sown row until the seedlings are up. Mulch should be removed as seedlings emerge.

Red Cross Needs Help to Aid Sufferers: Eisenhower

THE WHITE HOUSE
STATEMENT BY THE PRESIDENT

"On behalf of the people of the United States I extend deep sympathy to the people in the devastated areas of Louisiana and the other areas affected by hurricane Audrey. Everything possible is being done to alleviate their suffering.

"Federal, state, and local governments are doing everything in their power to assist the victims of the disaster. The governmental agencies are conducting the work of survey and rescue and of rehabilitation. But of necessity this will be limited primarily to emergency measures and to the rebuilding of vital local functions—highways, public buildings, and the restoration of utilities.

"In the great task of rehabilitation—caring for evacuated persons, sheltering and feeding them, ministering to the sick and the hurt—the American Red Cross must and eventually will play a major role. The Red Cross whose financial resources are already severely taxed by this and other disaster operations currently underway will need the help of every citizen of our land.

"Every one of us can participate in helping to relieve the suffering of his fellow Americans by contributing directly to local Red Cross chapters. I am confident that the American people will respond generously to help the Red Cross carry out its great humanitarian work."

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER.

Checks may be mailed to the Red Cross Office, Box 352, Harrisburg, Chapter Chairman, Alfred Adams, 2200 North Main, Eldorado, or Chapter Treasurer, R. C. Davenport, Harrisburg National Bank.

MR. AND MRS. LISTON JENT cut their wedding cake following their marriage on June 29 in the First Methodist church of Crab Orchard.

Miss Bonnie Bramlet and Liston Jent Exchange Vows

Miss Bonnie Bramlet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bramlet of RFD 2, Marion, and Liston Jent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leborn Jent of Sandwich, were united in marriage Saturday, June 29, at half past six o'clock, in the First Methodist church of Crab Orchard. Rev. Dennis Doane, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring ceremony before the altar, decorated with baskets of white gladioli and two seven-branch candelabras holding tall lighted tapers.

Mrs. Viola Jorda played traditional wedding music. The bride wore a dress of white lace over taffeta fashioned with a full ballerina-length skirt and a fitted bodice. The rounded neckline came to a deep V in the back, with a drape of white chiffon trailing to the hemline. A fitted crown of sequins and seed pearls secured her veil of French illusion. She carried a white Bible, topped with a bouquet of white orchids.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Miss Vivian Jent, sister of the bridegroom, served as maid of honor and her dress was a replica of the bride's, in a soft mint green color. She wore a hat and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Gordon Bramlet, brother of the bride, acted as best man and Curtis Jent was the candle lighter. The bride's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom chose powder blue for her son's wedding with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The bride, a graduate of Crab Orchard high school, has been employed at the Warwick, Silvertown television plant in Zion. Mr. Jent is a graduate of the Johnston City high school and is a committee chairman.

The VFW Auxiliary held its regular meeting at the VFW home Monday night with the president Rita Humphrey, presiding. The following committee chairmen were appointed:

Cancer chairman: Viola Fink; essay, Florence Hancock; child welfare, Lang Summers; hospital chairman, Hazel Jones; rehabilitation and community service, Jean Stuby; cards, Eileen Medley; flowers, Elizabeth Hindmarsh; poppy chairman, Dorothy Hathaway; legislative, Florence Hancock; youth activities, Rita Humphrey; publicity, Hazel Schellenger.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Rita Humphrey. Members present were Ann Stout, Viola Fink, Velma Bennett, Elizabeth Hindmarsh, Rita Humphrey, Hazel Schellenger, Jean Stuby, Lang Summers, and Hazel Jones.

Matter of FACT

Britannica Junior Encyclopedia

Two of Charles Dickens' greatest contributions were to the observance of Christmas and to prison reform. His "Christmas Carol," with the unforgettable reform of Scrooge, is recalled in the plum puddings and stage-coaches that decorate many Christmas cards. His writings also greatly influenced the change of laws which imprisoned men for debt. Dickens own father spent time in a debtor's prison.

Kills Curfew Measure

Bill to Regulate Financing of Autos Vetoed by Gov. Stratton

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Gov. William G. Stratton today vetoed a bill which would have regulated installment buying and financing of automobiles in Illinois.

He also killed a measure prohibiting use of unmarked police vehicles and another permitting local curfew ordinances forbidding youngsters from the streets or public places after certain hours.

The automobile sales bill included maximum limits on the interest rates which could have been charged for automobile financing. Another bill already has been signed into law which will regulate retail installment sales on all personal property, although without specific limits on financing charges.

Stratton noted the approval of the other measure and said "There is no compelling reason for distinguishing between installment sales of motor vehicles and installment sales of other property."

Of the U.-marked police car bill, Stratton said the measure "would serve no useful purpose."

In his veto message returned with the curfew bill the governor said such a proposed law "does not seem characteristic of a state which has as its foundation and greatest asset the liberty of the individual."

Stratton said he was aware of the problems of juvenile delinquency at which the bill was aimed, but such problems, "for the most part should be approached on an individual basis."

Kiwanians See Summer League In Operation

Members of the Harrisburg Kiwanis club last night after their regular dinner meeting at the Masonic temple visited the VFW baseball park across from the fairgrounds where the summer baseball league, sponsored by the club, is in operation.

The members visited the park to see the baseball program for the boys of Harrisburg and surrounding communities in action and to help with the concession stand which is being operated in turn by members of the club.

More than 20 baseball teams of boys ranging from ages 9 through 18 are taking part in the recreation program with play in three leagues according to ages of the players.

Next Tuesday will be Division 16 Sports Day with the Metropolis club host for the occasion. A ladies' night dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. at Fort Massac park and President Richard Davenport urged all members of the Harrisburg club to attend and to take their wives. There will be no meeting of the club here that evening.

The Harrisburg club has had good representation at other inter-club meetings held at Cairo and Murphysboro this year and President Davenport is seeking equally good representation at Metropolis next Tuesday.

Court Appoints Three Attorneys For Young Couple

SALEM, Ill. (UP) — The Marion County board of supervisors here says State's Atty. Basil Wilson can have all the legal help he needs in a pending murder trial.

The defendants, Trudy Jo Baker, 17, and her husband, Robert J. Baker, 26, Wormleysburg, Pa., have three court-appointed attorneys.

Wilson indicated he will hire an assistant prosecutor after the supervisors' action Tuesday.

The Bakers are charged with murder in the slaying of Marine Pvt. Larry M. Kirk, 21, Winslow, Ind., last December.

The trial is scheduled to start July 22. Circuit Judge Ward Holt has issued a call for 156 prospective jurors.

Ginger Rogers Granted Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP) — Film queen Ginger Rogers has been granted a divorce from her fourth husband, youthful French actor Jacques Bergerac, on routine grounds of cruelty.

The blonde, 45-year-old actress Tuesday obtained the divorce in Superior Court after testifying that Bergerac, 30, stayed away from home for long periods and often would not speak to her for weeks—"even at the dinner table."

Miss Rogers met the actor in Europe and they were married at Palm Springs, Calif., Feb. 7, 1953. The couple separated last May 3.

Pakistan Prime Minister Arrives In U. S. for Visit

WASHINGTON (UP) — Prime Minister Huseyn Shaheed Suhrawardy of Pakistan today reaffirmed his nation's decision to remain firmly on the side of the United States in the cold war.

"We are allies," the Asian leader told Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who welcomed him on arrival for a three-day series of talks with President Eisenhower and other officials.

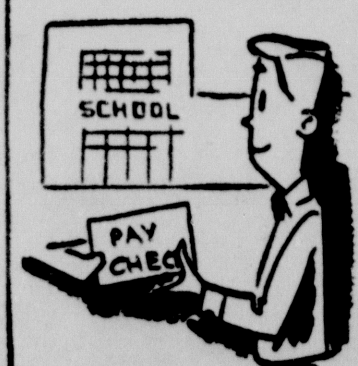

Pakistan, the world's largest Moslem nation, has scorned neutralism to align itself with the Western democracies in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

The talks are designed to strengthen military and economic ties between the United States and Pakistan.

Harry Land is Named to Lockyear College Faculty

A former Harrisburg man, Harry Land, has been appointed to the faculty of Lockyear's Business College, Evansville.

Mr. Land, son of Arthur and Maude Land, 129 East Woolcott street, will begin his teaching duties in the accounting department Aug. 1.

Mr. Land was born in Gaskins City Oct. 24, 1910, and attended grade school and one year of high school in Harrisburg. He completed high school and one year of college work through the facilities furnished by the Army during his service with the armed forces from January 19, 1931, to his retirement with the grade of lieutenant colonel, Oct. 31, 1954.

His overseas service included duty in Japan during World War II and in Korea during the Korean action.

Following retirement in San Francisco, Mr. Land and his wife, Luella, a native of Rolla, Mo., and their daughter, Patricia Kay, established their home at 1417 South Red Bank Road, Evansville.

Mr. Land enrolled in Lockyear's Business College Sept. 6, 1955, in the course of advanced accounting and will start teaching in the accounting department next month. In addition to the appointment to

House Approves Surplus Barter

WASHINGTON (UP) — The House has approved an administration request for authority to barter American farm surpluses to Iron Curtain countries for strategic materials.

It took the action Thursday in passing a compromise $1,300,000, 000 bill to revive and extend for another year the farm surplus disposal program which lapsed June 30.

The legislation would permit such barter deals with all Communist countries except Soviet Russia, Communist China and countries controlled by Communist China.

The measure was a compromise between a Senate bill which contained the new bartering authority in somewhat broader form, and a House bill which did not.

The bill now goes to the Senate for final congressional action.

the business college faculty, Mr. Land also has received appointment to GS4, United States Civil Service.

His comment to the question "Is a business education advisable?" is a quote from E. H. Harriman, "I know of no training that costs so little and pays so much as a business education."

Evansville Man Receives Railroad Medal of Honor

WASHINGTON (UP) — The railroad medal of honor was presented today to Herman J. Schaefer, 34, a switchman for the Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad who risked his life to save a small boy.

Chairman Owen Clarke of the Interstate Commerce Commission presented the bronze medal to the Evansville, Ind., railroader on behalf of President Eisenhower.

Schaefer's wife and his four blond youngsters were in the front row and watched the ceremony.

Clarke read the citation which detailed Schaefer's heroic act. On the afternoon of March 29, 1954, Schaefer was on an engine hauling 15 loaded freight cars in the Evansville yards. As the locomotive passed over a grade crossing in the yard, Schaefer saw a small child standing close to the track.

Realizing the train could not stop in time to avoid striking the boy, Schaefer crossed over to the right side of the locomotive and dropped down to the front footboard. At the last moment, he reached out, grabbed the child and tossed him clear of the train.

The boy, Timothy Roberson, aged 2 1-2, was not hurt.

Actress Asks Million in Suit

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP) — Actress Maureen O'Hara today sought one million dollars damages in a libel suit against Confidential magazine.

Miss O'Hara charged Tuesday in a Superior Court suit that she and her family suffered "mental anguish" as a result of an article about her in the March 1, 1957 issue of the magazine. The article was titled, "I Was the Hottest Show in Town When Maureen O'Hara Cuddled In Row 35."

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

To
59th DISTRICT

By Representative

GORDON E. KERR

The 70th session of the General Assembly is now history but it will be several days before we know just what will become law. Governor Stratton will veto many bills that have been passed by the legislature.

The session as a whole has been good for the people. With the largest budget in the history of the state, there will be no general tax increase.

School Legislation

Although school legislation was highly debated and at times politics entered in the picture, schools fared very well in this session. All levels of education were given increases. It is now possible for a child to go from the first grade through college with a minimum fee. The common school fund was increased to $227 million plus $10 million revolving fund plus $10 million for drivers' education and the schools will get a larger refund for school transportation. The present $200 per student rate will continue for the next two years. Southern Illinois University was granted an increase and it is now possible for the larger cities of our district to establish junior colleges. Teacher salaries have been increased to a $3200 minimum.

Constitutional Amendments

Two Amendments will appear on the ballot next fall for the people of the state to vote on. The long awaited judicial reform amendment will for the first time go before the people. It has always been defeated in the General Assembly until this year. The main objection has been the selection of judges by lawyers. That has been removed and the people will continue to elect the judges.

The other amendment will be to allow sheriffs and county treasurers to succeed themselves. At present they can only serve one term. That is the reason that in most counties a sheriff will run for treasurer and the treasurer run for sheriff.

The proposed constitutional amendments found the members of this district united in opposing some of the governors program. Some of the proposals that were killed was abolishing the auditors office and making it an appointive office by the governor. The amendment to allow 18 year olds to vote failed by just a few votes.

District Legislators

The three House members and Senator Jones from this district introduced and passed more bills than usual. A bill that has received little attention is very important to our part of the state. It puts life in the Water and Resources and Flood Control board. It was introduced by Senator Jones and I handled it in the House. Your three House members together sponsored bills that will help this district and all of them passed. Among them was an appropriation to the Dept. of Health, whereby the department can set up a program to control the salt marsh mosquitoes, such as breeds in abandoned strip mine pits. Another was a bill that will allow the board of supervisors or county commissioners to levy a higher rate. This law applies only to the smaller counties. Another was a bill that permits most trucks to discontinue the contour splash guard.

The sales and use tax will be imposed on material used in repairing personal property. Under H.B. 945 it will be illegal to sell autos on Sunday. The Korean bonus will be voted on by the people next fall. The bonus will be $10 for each month of service, plus $100 for service in Korea and $1,000 to the families of those killed in service. All of the governor's safety program passed. In the future all eggs sold must be sold by grade. Several changes were made in the election laws. Many commission bills were passed, but about half of them will be vetoed.

Assessments

At the closing of the session three bills were passed that may have a far reaching effect on local governments. These bills are to bring equal assessments to all the people of the state. They put the duty of the board of review to equalize all assessments by townships. All members of the board must be qualified before they can be appointed. The department of revenue has the power to see that the board of review does equalize the assessment. It is certain that our present system is a failure and maybe this is a step in the right direction.

The combined experience of the House members have helped in this session and Senator Jones has done an outstanding job in the senate.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Weather prediction is done scientifically by meteorologists who study air currents, wind speeds, pressure areas, moisture collection and other matters related to the movement of clouds. Even these scientists do not predict as accurately as all of us would like to have them. These experts are among the minority of those who try to foretell tomorrow's weather. Most of our weather prophets are people who read almanacs, feel the coming rain "in their bones" or see signs in some remote place. More of us like to guess than to study logical data.

There is some amateurish satisfaction in trying to look into the future and outguess history concerning forthcoming events. Actually, if God wanted us to know the details of the tomorrow, He would have revealed ways of predicting with a measure of certainty.

Washing Machine Still Tops Wants of Housewives, NBC's Jack Bailey Says

By JACK BAILEY
Written For The United Press
HOLLYWOOD — The truth about the American housewife is that, in spite of automation, electronics and the atomic age, the thing she wants most is still a washing machine. How do I know?

Because five days a week, 2 days a year, 800 women attend our show in Hollywood and on the back of their admission card they name what they want most if the audience elects them "Queen For A Day." Week after week, for 11 years now, the washing machine has been number one on their wish parade.

We get all kinds of wishes; some light, some serious, like the one from the young wife who was both deaf and mute and expecting a child. She wanted an electronic warning apparatus, one that would flash lights in every room in the house when it picked up the sound of her baby crying.

One Raised Worm
Then there was the one from a woman who wanted us to help her get rid of some worms. She was in the worm-raising business, it seemed, and when the bottom dropped out of the market she thought we'd be able to help her get rid of the wrigglers. She didn't win, though, and we were spared the task.

Generally, women wish for something that will improve daily living or lift the veil of tragedy that has been suddenly thrown over their homes. They want hearing aids, glasses, orthopedic shoes or special educations for their youngsters, necessary things that are beyond the financial means of many families.

Many Totally Unselfish
Not infrequently, women appear with totally unselfish wishes: they want something for someone else. One woman who returned from missionary work in Korea wished for money to be sent to a Korean orphanage. Another for a bicycle for her paper boy.

But the washing machine is number one and anyone trying to raise three or four youngsters can understand why. Because many in the array of household gifts that all our winners receive.

HOLLYWOOD TODAY!

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Exclusively Yours: Inger ("Man on Fire") Stevens' tales to the New York press about being a onetime chorus chick in the Latin quarter night club was a blusher for the MGM publicity man who handled the Crosby film.

He kept the Broadway-after-dark chapter of her life in the deep freeze as "bad" for her film career. But when Inger returned to Paramount, her home studio, its more wide-awake drum beaters advised her to tell all—and she did.

"Gulliver's Travels" as a movie in big "Around the World in 80 Days" Mike Todd style is being talked about at Universal-International. If the idea jells, the studios will shrink another actor to king-size cigarette height with a whole flock of big-name stars playing cameo roles. "The Incredible Shrinking Man" cued the project.

I'm still on a soapbox after seeing "The Pride and the Passion." Great, great, great. Sophia Loren may lick TV all by herself. Cary Grant told me he was worried when he signed up for the costume film because, he said, "I'm a hands-in-my-pockets actor. I don't know what else to do with 'em when I'm talking."

It's obvious he stopped worrying, though, because as a swash-buckler he's in like Flynn.

Jan Sterling is predicting her 12-year-old stepdaughter, Maggie, will crash the movies as a glamor girl by the time she's 17. As frank, uninhibited Jan told me on the set of "Christmas in Paradise": "And why shouldn't she? What else could the daughter of Paul Douglas and Virginia Field be?"

Is Liberace trying to buy up all copies of THAT scandal magazine on the Hollywood newsstands? Someone purchased all the copies available (51) at one Movietown stand and gave Smiley's address for delivery. After two sneak previews of Ann Blyth's version of "The Helen Morgan Story," Warner Bros. are no longer worried about the recent Polly Bergen TV version killing interest. The picture will have a November release. Molly Bee and Rick Nelson will team up in a singing act for the Ohio State Fair. If the act clicks, they'll take it to Las Vegas after Molly completes her role in UFA's "Summer Love."

Marquee signs of the week: The double-billing of "Funny Face" and "A Face in the Crowd" as:

"Funny Face in the Crowd." Another theatre's way of saying it: "Boy on a Dolphin—To Catch a Thief."

Fals of Richard Boone are giving him the ribbing of his life. The sideburns he sprouted for his new telefilm series, "Have Gun—Will Travel," are an inch longer than Elvis Presley's. Don't worry about those leather elbow patches on Robert Young's sport coats in his "Father Knows Best" telefilms. He's not keeping them from the Goodwill bag—he orders 'em new that way because he likes 'em patched. And is starting a fad, tailors tell me.

Polish off an Oscar, please, for Managing Director Max Mink of a Cleveland theatre. He eliminated popcorn from the lobby during his record 32-week run of "This Is Cinerama." Popcorn is taboo at showings of "Around the World in 80 Days" in Los Angeles, too, and the film is setting new box office records.

Maybe it's a clue for a new movie slogan:

"If it's a popcorn-less picture, it's the best box office in town." Approved, of course, by NO POP, my National Organization of People Opposed to Popcorn at the movies.

I wonder if "The Pride and the Passion," from C. S. Forester's novel, "The Gun," will inspire a sequel, "Son of a Gun."

Herb Score, Indians' Injured Hurler, Weds

BOYNTON BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Herb Score, Cleveland's "million-dollar" southpaw, takes a wife to-day before starting workouts to determine how his injured eye will affect his pitching.
Father Thomas Kelley of Rose-dale, N. Y., who launched Score on his baseball career, was to marry him in a High Mass ceremony at St. Mark's Catholic Church here to pretty Nancy McNamara of Lantana, Fla., whom Score met in high school.
Score, 24, was struck in the right eye in a night game at Cleveland May 7 by a line drive off the bat of Yankee Gil McDougald. It was feared at first that the 1955 rookie of the year might lose his vision in the eye, but after two months of recuperating, mostly at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna M. Score in Lake Worth, Fla., Score is as confident he could resume his mound duties with the Indians.
After a five-day honeymoon, Score and his bride will go to Cleveland Monday where the handsome, blond fireballer will undergo a thorough medical examination to determine the condition of his eye, before beginning workouts.

Stengel Guesses Wrong But His American Leaguers Win All-Star Game, 6-5

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Wrong guessing and second guessing told the tale of the All-Star Game, a 6-5 win for Casey Stengel's American League team to break a two-victory streak by Brooklyn Dodger manager Walt Alton and the National League.
Stengel didn't want to start rookie right hander Jim Bunning of Detroit Tuesday. And he wanted to keep Boston's Ted Williams in left field for offensive punch.
He wanted to open the game with Cleveland's veteran Early Wynn, and he would have, except that Wynn pitched seven innings Sunday and Stengel feared he would be tired.
So Bunning was the standout of the 12 hurlers who appeared. He retired nine men in order and got credit for the win when his mates got two runs in the second inning. Wynn gave up three hits and two runs later in 1-3 of an inning.
Stengel partially carried out his strategy with Williams. He let the Boston star step to the plate four times, and he walked once and went out three times. Then, nursing a 3-2 lead, he put Chicago's Minnie Minoso into left field for defensive purposes.
Minoso Emerges Star
Minoso starred both on offense and defense. He rapped a double off the right center field wall in the ninth inning to drive home Al Kaline of Detroit with what proved to be the winning run.
Defensively, Minoso turned in two key plays. When the National League was threatening to tie in the ninth inning, Hank Foiles was on second base after a single and a walk to Gus Bell.
Don Mossi struck out Eddie Mathews and Ernie Banks lined a single to left to score Foiles easily. But Minoso played the ball expertly and when Bell tried to go to third base, Minoso threw perfectly to Frank Malzone for the second out as Banks took second.
Stengel brought in his own Yankee reliever, Bob Grim, when Gil Hodges pinch hit for the National League, and Grim threw only two pitches. The first was outside. The second was lined to left field, where Minoso made a short run to catch the ball and end the game.
"If Williams had been in there," some onlookers said, "he wouldn't have caught the ball."
Alton Second Guessed
Alton was the target for the second guessers. Why didn't he order Mathews to bunt with no outs, two runs in, the tying runs on first and second?
"How'd I know Banks would hit?" the Dodger manager asked. "If I had, I would have."
National League starter Curt Simmons, appearing in the All-

Star Game for the third time, was the losing pitcher as he gave up a single to Mickey Mantle, a walk to Williams, a single to Vic Wertz and a walk to Yogi Berra in the second inning. Then with one run in, Lew Burdette came in. And though he got two men out, he walked Harvey Kuenn to force in another score.
Bill Skowron doubled in the sixth, advanced on Jack Sanford's wild pitch, and scored on Yogi Berra's single.
In the ninth, Billy Pierce began the winning surge with a single and he got to second when Red Schoendienst bobbled Gil McDougald's grounder for an error.
AL Leads Series 14-10
Nellie Fox sacrificed and both runners scored on Kaline's single. Mantle struck out, the only American Leaguer to do so, but Minoso's double was the finishing punch.
The National Leaguers netted two runs on singles by Willie Mays and Ed Bailey and Gus Bell's pinch double in the seventh off Wynn.
Then their rally fell short in the ninth. Stan Musial walked and Mays drove him home with a triple and scored himself on Pierce's wild pitch. That set the stage for Foiles to bat for Bailey and keep the chase alive.
It was the second victory in the last eight games for the American League and the 14th overall against 10 National League victories.
Blue was specified as the national color for U. S. Army uniforms on March 27, 1921.

Dairy Brand, Social Brethren and McKinley Baptist Win Kiwanis Tilts

Dairy Brand thumped Martin Oil, 17-3, Social Brethren clobbered Athletic House, 21-7, and McKinley Baptist's National leaguers topped Social Brethren, 19-2, in Kiwanis play Tuesday.
Gulley pitched a two-hitter and banded out three hits to lead Dairy Brand to a 17-3 win over Martin Oil. Wollesen homered and singled twice and M. Johnson and Turner hit safely twice for the winners. Hickey and Gibbons had the losers' only hits. Howton was the losing pitcher.
P. Hutchinson blasted two doubles and two singles, Cline tripled and singled twice and Brown, Asbell and McKeever had two hits each as Social Brethren won over Athletic House. Beal scattered five hits, walking four and fanning five for the win. Fields, Summers, Barrett, Gleghorn and Fleming hit safely for the losers. Shelton took the loss on the hill.
Hefner hurled a two-hitter and he and his teammates slammed out 13 hits, eight for extra bases. McKinley beat Social Brethren. Langford tripled and singled, Nelson singled and homered, Wasson doubled and singled, Hicks dou-

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team will practice Thursday evening at 5:30 on the town park diamond. The diamond has recently been skinned off and is in the process of being fixed up for practice and possibly some games.
All VFW players who are not working out of town are requested to be present for this important practice to get ready for the strong Mt. Carmel team Sunday.

IN the time it took Garde to go up the hill and return, bag in hand, she made various gestures of distaste and protest. All to no avail, of course. Nor was the face she made when he knelt beside her and opened the bag.

He wrapped gauze about the finger, then pulled a length of knitted tubing over the dressing, fastening the whole thing snugly into place.

She regarded his handiwork with fascination. "Slick as a whistle," she decided. "Painful, but neat."

Laughing, he shook his head and repacked his bag, closed it and set it upon her towel. Then he stretched his length on the sand beside her, tipping his cap forward to shield his eyes.

"Why were you hunting drift-wood?" he asked. "For lamps, fire or hanging?"

She laughed. "Relief of boredom was my primary motive, but it could make a column."

"I'll charge for the idea."

"Oh, I always steal them."

"I'll bet. Want a drink? I see Sparks over at the Marquardt cabana." He hailed Sparks, and the drinks were forthcoming.

"Where's Nan?" he asked.

"Now that's not the way to make a girl feel she is the sole object of your attentions!"

"Main reason I asked about Nan," he went on, "she offered me a job shining brass."

"Couldn't have been much of a job; she went off alone about 2 o'clock."

"Still cross?"

Valley lifted her head to look at him. "Why, yes, she was cross. How did you know that?"

So Garde told her. About the clinic, about the way the other doctors had agreed to his plan and about his enthusiasm for it, the need for such a thing among the district's poorer people. I thought Nan might like working with such a project. She seems the sort of girl to fall in with that sort of thing. It would take about a morning a week; there'd be records to keep, some visiting to do—and of course the reward of helping the children. But she turned me down flat, Valley. And I mean really flat. She didn't want any part of my project.

"You know why she didn't want a part in it, don't you, Garde?"

HE sat up and hugged his knees, feeling the warmth of the sun upon his back and shoulders. "No," he said, shaking his head. "I don't know."

Valley sighed and sat up, too. Reached for her big straw hat. "That child was made to grow up overnight. She was forced to learn all about woman-hurt in one big lesson."

Garde nodded. "I wouldn't have put it so well."

She held up her neatly bandaged finger. "You wrap gauze. I tie up words into little bundles. But to go back to Nan—later, Garde, your idea—your project—would give her what you hoped it would." Valley's big eyes gazed out across the water, at the rippling sheen of it, at the boat 500 feet from shore, and the dark heads of a few swimmers. "Just now, every child Nan sees, especially the ones she has to touch, remind her of the poor little ghosts she might have had with Kurt."

"I see," he said grimly.

Valley went on, almost as if she were talking to herself. "It's not fair," she mused, "to fight a girl like Nan, to hurt her. Girls like that won't fight back, Garde. They just stand and take it, or crumple. Hurting them gives one an awful feeling. I know!"

He reached for a smooth round pebble, striped gray on white, and he bounced it on the palm of his hand. "You wouldn't ever hurt Nan."

"Garde Shelton, don't you know that I am a perfectly horrible woman?"

He laughed.

"I am!" she insisted. "Let me tell you . . ."

And she did tell him, tying her little bundles of words so neatly, so effectively, that Garde was there on that summer day of last year when Valley Stanfield had come home for a week's visit with her father and her "little sister" in rural Missouri.

He was there later on that same afternoon when the front door opened and Kurt came into the house.

Valley would rise hastily from the chair where she was sitting and try to slip out, and he would step in her way, his hand out to detain her. And they would stand for a long minute, looking at each other—looking and looking and looking . . .

"Nan—in that one minute when I gazed at Kurt and knew that I still loved him, that he still loved me—in that same minute, Nan changed from the sister I had loved since babyhood and became no longer my sister but another woman, the other woman, who'd stolen my man. I was jealous of Nan. I wanted to hurt her, and I knew that I would hurt her.

"I remember that whole long night. I couldn't stay in bed. I got up and went to the window, watched the moon path on the river, watched the stars wheel up the sky and start down again. And as dawn began to burn in the pale sky I made a desperate, determined vow—to this time—know my love and to have it!"

She sat silent, and Garde thought she would say no more. But soon she sighed heavily, her breath almost a sob in her throat.

Mrs. Nellie Adams
Hostess to Mt. Pleasant Baptist Usher Board

The Usher Board of Mt. Pleasant Baptist church met at the church Monday evening with Mrs. Nellie Adams hostess.

The meeting opened with group singing, scripture reading by Martin Anderson and prayer by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Hughes.

Following the business meeting

"I knew what I was doing, Garde. I knew what it meant and would mean. I knew that I should repack my bags and take the next plane out. I didn't do it. I stuck around."
